

JAMES W. LAMB, CFA

James Lamb is a vice president of Loomis, Sayles & Company and a member of the specialty growth strategies team. He is a senior equity research analyst for the small cap and small-mid cap growth products and a co-portfolio manager for the mid cap growth product. Prior to joining Loomis Sayles in 2008, James was an investment associate in fundamental equity research at Putnam Investments. He earned an AB in engineering sciences from Dartmouth College.