

OLUROTIMI AJIBOLA

Timi Ajibola is a vice president and senior mortgage trader for the disciplined alpha team at Loomis, Sayles & Company, where he is responsible for security selection and trading for the mortgage sector. He started his investment industry career in 2004. Prior to joining Loomis Sayles in 2019, Timi was an MBS portfolio manager at Google, where he managed a portfolio of agency MBS and CMBS and was responsible for security selection, trading and risk management. Previously, he was an MBS strategist at BNP Paribas, where he was responsible for idea generation and trade recommendations in agency MBS. Timi has also held analyst roles at Barclays Global Investors and Deutsche Bank. He earned a BS in mathematics: actuarial science from the University of Texas at Austin.