

LOOMIS SAYLES WELCOMES SUSAN SIEKER AS CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

BOSTON (12 APRIL 2021) – Loomis, Sayles & Company, an affiliate of Natixis Investment Managers, announced today that Susan Sieker has joined Loomis Sayles as executive vice president and chief financial officer (CFO). She also joins the Loomis Sayles Board of Directors. Susan reports to Kevin Charleston, chairman and chief executive officer of Loomis Sayles, and will oversee the finance organization.

Susan joins Loomis Sayles from Cambridge Associates, where she was the chief financial officer and oversaw financial planning and analysis, treasury, accounting operations, financial reporting, payroll and taxes. Prior to joining Cambridge Associates in 2012, Susan served in a variety of finance and risk leadership roles at Brinker International, including vice president and treasurer, vice president of global infrastructure, vice president of benefits, vice president of business assurance (enterprise risk management) and as director of internal audit. She began her career at PricewaterhouseCoopers, where she specialized in financial services and completed a two-year international secondment in Brazil. Susan earned a BBA in accounting from Southern Methodist University and holds her certification in public accountancy (CPA).

“It is a privilege to welcome Susan to Loomis Sayles. Her extensive experience helping drive success for a service-based company in our industry during a challenging environment will be invaluable as Loomis Sayles continues growing its increasingly complex global business,” said Kevin Charleston. “She has already proven herself to be a thoughtful and collaborative partner and I am confident she will be a great addition to the firm.”

Susan succeeds Paul Sherba, an executive vice president, member of the board of directors and chief financial officer, who retired on March 31, 2021, after 34 years with Loomis Sayles. Paul joined the company in 1987 as assistant controller, and was later promoted to controller, and then to treasurer before assuming the CFO role in 2015.
