Prior to the stock market close August 31, 2015, the Fund had multiple sub-advisers. The performance results shown above for the periods prior to the stock market close August 31, 2015 reflect results achieved by those sub-advisers using different investment strategies.

Prior to the inception of Class Y shares (12/3/2012), performance is that of Class A shares and reflects the higher net expenses of that share class. Not all share classes are available for purchase by all investors. See the prospectus for more details.

Institutional Class shares (Class Y) are available to institutional investors only with a minimum initial investment of $100,000.

As of the most recent prospectus, the investment advisor has contractually agreed to waive fees and/or reimburse expenses once the expense cap of the fund has been exceeded. This arrangement is set to expire on 4/30/20. When an expense cap has not been exceeded, the fund may have similar expense ratios and/or yields.

Additional share classes may be available for certain funds for eligible investors. Performance results will vary based on the share class.

ABOUT RISK

Asset allocation strategies do not guarantee a profit or protect against a loss. Equity securities are volatile and can decline significantly in response to broad market and economic conditions. Fixed income securities may carry one or more of the following risks: credit, interest rate (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), inflation and liquidity. Below investment grade fixed income securities may be subject to greater risks (including the risk of default) than other fixed income securities. Foreign and emerging market securities may be subject to greater political, economic, environmental, credit, currency and information risks. Foreign securities may be subject to higher volatility than U.S. securities, due to varying degrees of regulation and limited liquidity. These risks are magnified in emerging markets. Real estate investing may be subject to risks including, but not limited to, declines in the value of real estate, risks related to general economic conditions, changes in the value of the underlying property owned by the trust and defaults by borrowers. Master Limited Partnerships (MLPs) may trade less frequently than traditional investments such as equities, which may result in erratic price movement or difficulty in buying or selling. MLPs are subject to significant regulation and may be adversely affected by changes in the regulatory environment including the risk that an MLP could lose its tax status as a partnership. Derivatives involve risk of loss and may entail additional risks. Because derivatives depend on the performance of an underlying asset, they can be highly volatile and are subject to market and credit risks.

Green shaded areas denote generally positive economic conditions; red shaded areas denote generally weak economic conditions at each point in the credit cycle.

<sup>1</sup>Alpha is a measure of the difference between a portfolio's actual returns and its expected performance, given its level of systematic market risk. A positive alpha indicates outperformance and negative alpha indicates underperformance relative to the portfolio's level of systematic risk.
